*Certain personal information requested on the application, including an applicant's Social Security number is protected by both Ohio and federal law. Inclusion of a Social Security Number on an application for a concealed weapon license is not required for the application to be processed. Under federal law, the county sheriff may not refuse to process an application for a license if the applicant does not provide a Social Security number. Although voluntary, disclosing a Social Security number greatly facilitates the background checks that must be conducted before a license can be issued.
